

OPEN
Textbooks

What if you could change higher education
with just one textbook?

Be a part of a growing movement to change education

What is an open textbook?

An open textbook is licensed openly, so it's free for you to use, re-use, modify, and adapt to fit your course requirements without the need for further copyright permission.

What are the benefits?

Open textbooks are flexible for educators and free for students, come with a community of your peers on the cutting edge of education innovation, and are an affordable, flexible alternative to traditionally-published textbooks.

BCcampus open textbooks are vetted through peer review.

As with any textbook, you are the final judge of whether an open textbook meets the needs of your course.

How to adopt an Open Textbook

- 1 Go to open.bccampus.ca
- 2 Find a text you want to use
- 3 Copy the URL
- 4 Put URL in your syllabus
- 5 Fill out the Adoption of an Open Textbook form at open.bccampus.ca
- 6 Tell your peers

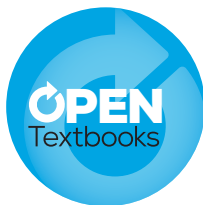

Open textbook formats

Read online, download epub and mobi formats or purchase a low cost print copy online.

Find peer-reviewed textbooks in the following subjects at open.bccampus.ca

- Arts
- Business
- Health
- Recreation/Tourism
- Sciences
- Social Sciences
- Trades
- Upgrading Programs

Visit open.bccampus.ca to find out more about the B.C. Open Textbook Project and how to adopt an open textbook.

@BCOpenText #OpenTextbooks #OER

Sign up for the BCcampus newsletter (bccampus.ca/bccampus-around-the-web/) for updates on the B.C. Open Textbook Project and other BCcampus news.

Except where otherwise noted, content is licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License.

This project is supported by:

